Left Behind

By Pam Borgeson

The parts of you
You left behind
The random things
That cross my mind

The thoughts of what
You'd do or say
What I'd tell you
About my day

The empty spot
Where you once were
The painful end
Begins to blur

The tears I cried
That you dismissed
The vacant hole
Where you are missed

The footprints left
Within the sand
Were washed away
By God's own hand

The joyous life
The love that flowed
The gifts you gave
The will you showed

The parts of you
Left with a smile
Will carry us through
The hardest mile

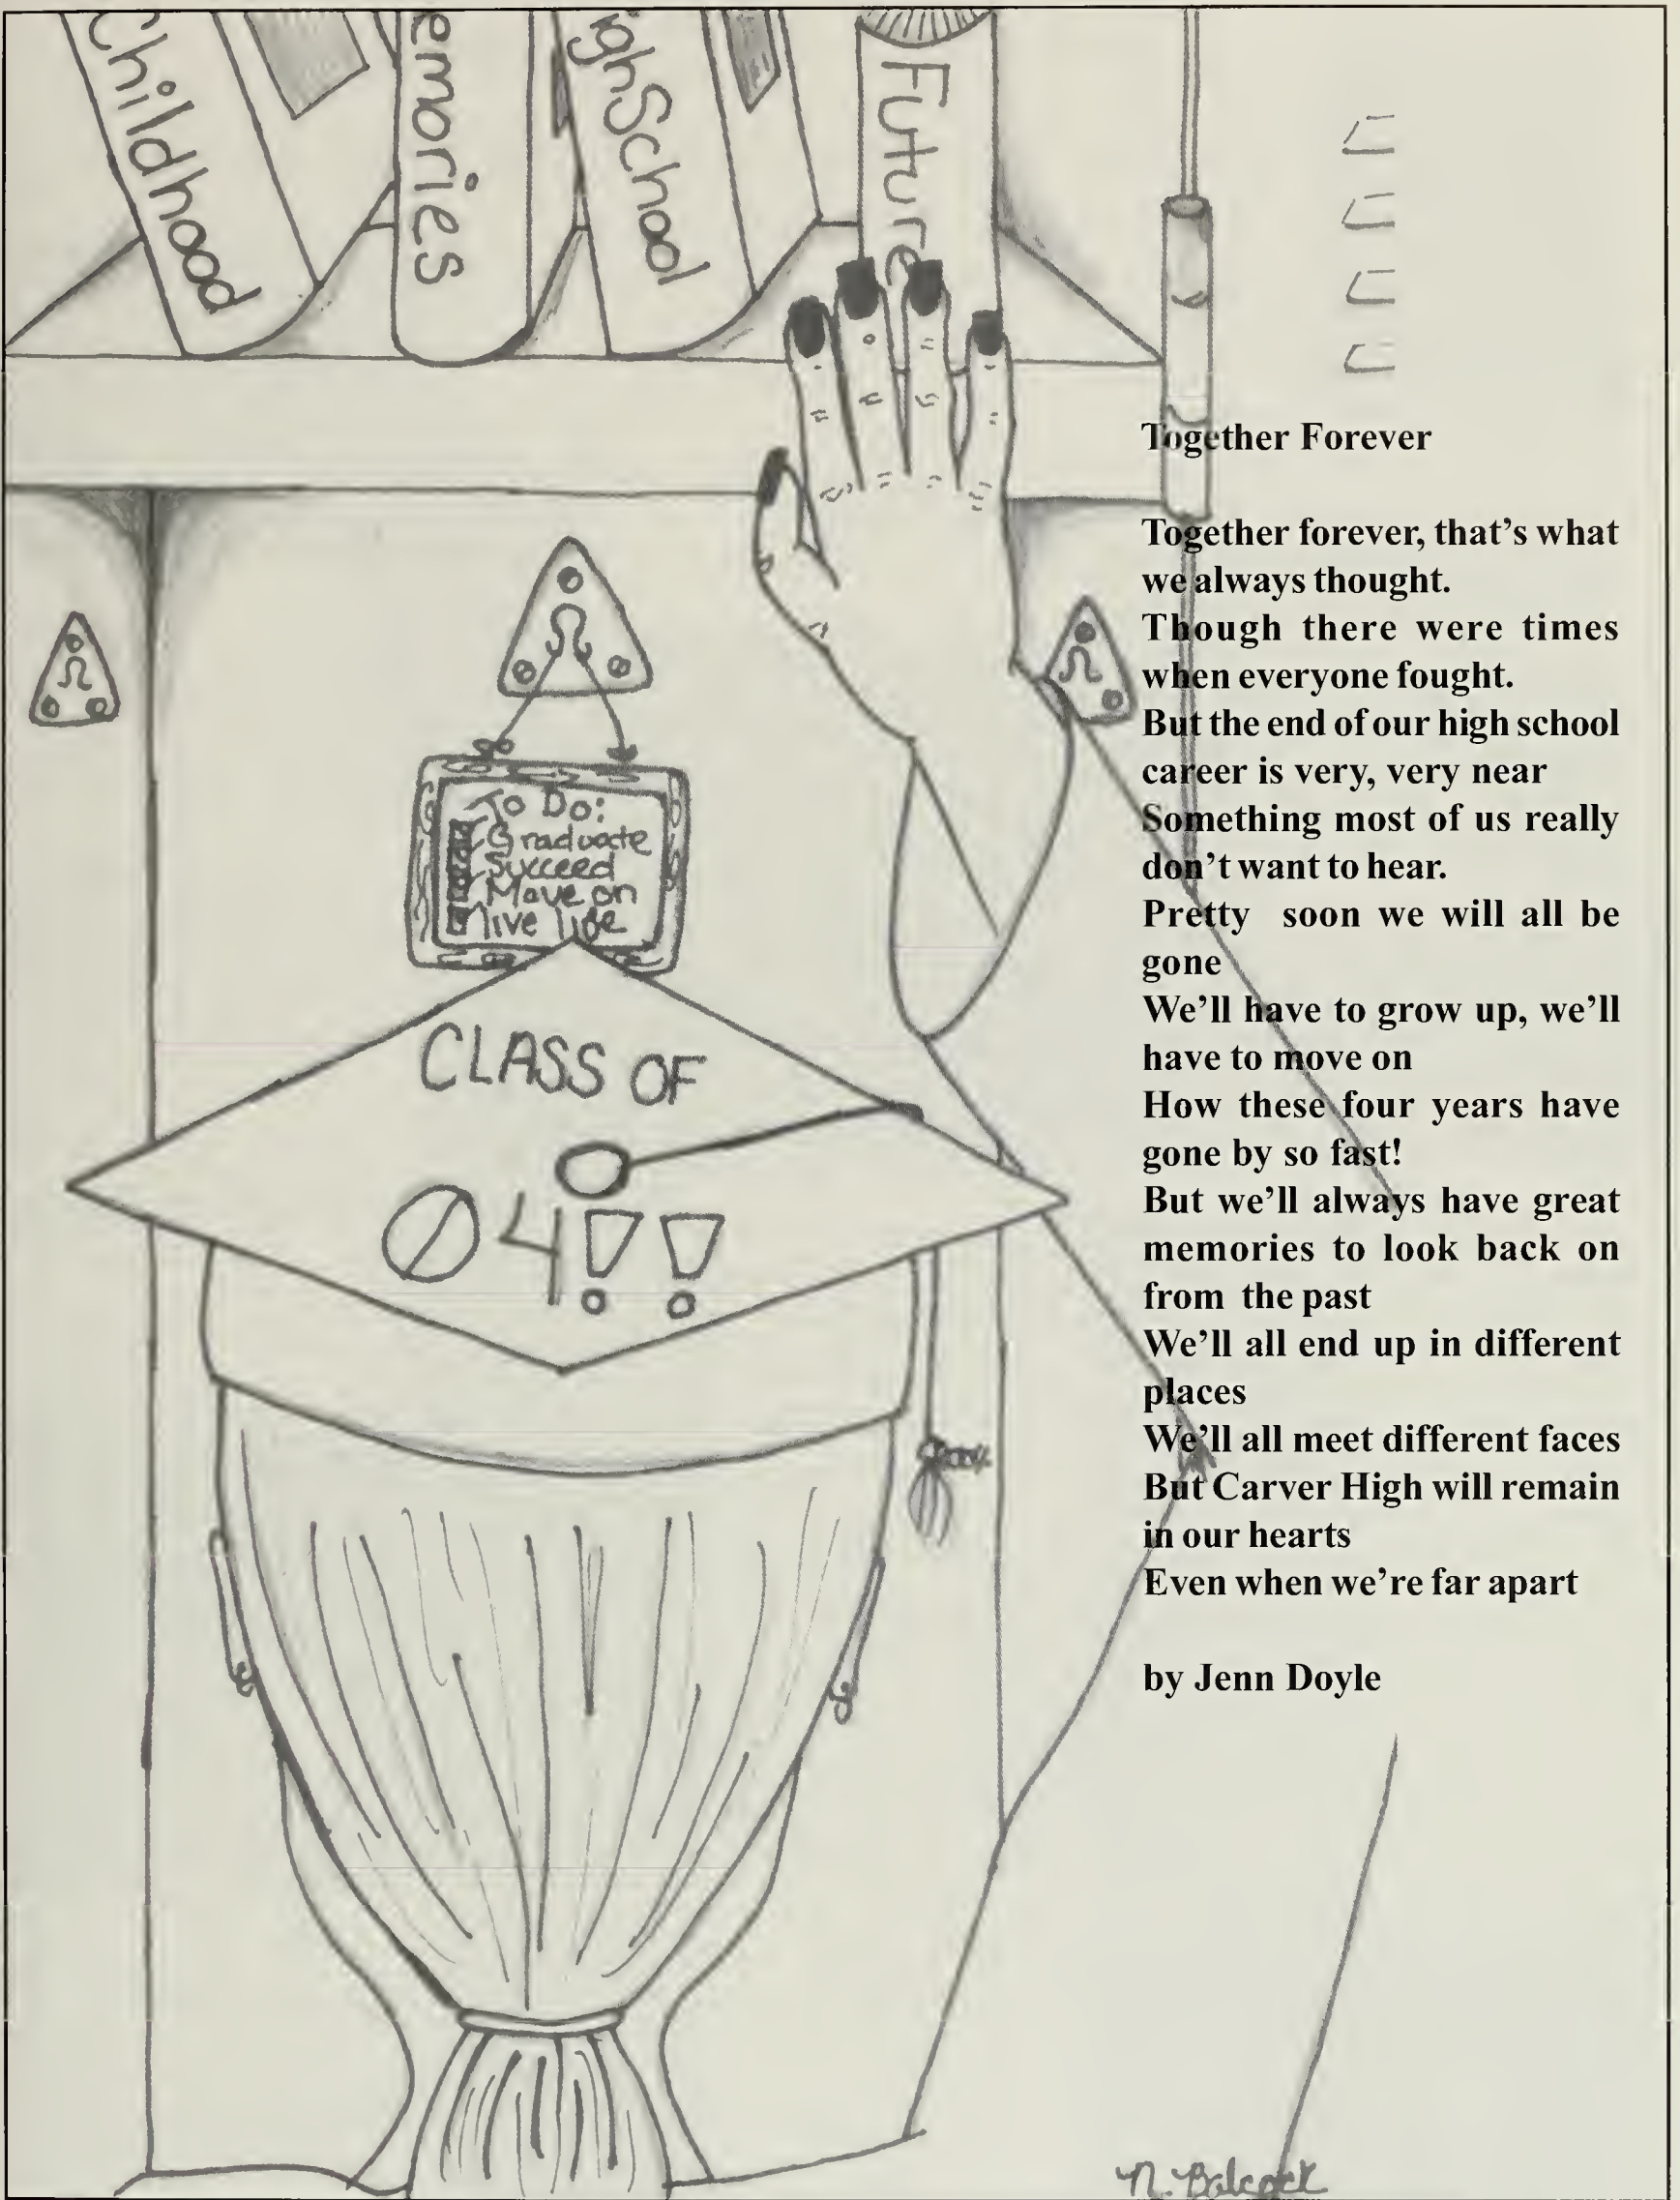

For you are here
Within our heart
We're here to finish
What you could start

In memory of our friend, teacher, and yearbook advisor

Daria Amaral

Two Thousand Four
2004

Together Forever

Together forever, that's what we always thought.
Though there were times
when everyone fought.
But the end of our high school career is very, very near Something most of us really don't want to hear.
Pretty soon we will all be gone
We'll have to grow up, we'll have to move on
How these four years have gone by so fast!
But we'll always have great memories to look back on
from the past
We'll all end up in different places
We'll all meet different faces
But Carver High will remain
in our hearts
Even when we're far apart

2004 Yearbook Dedication

Athletic Director Rocardo “Rocky” Gomes

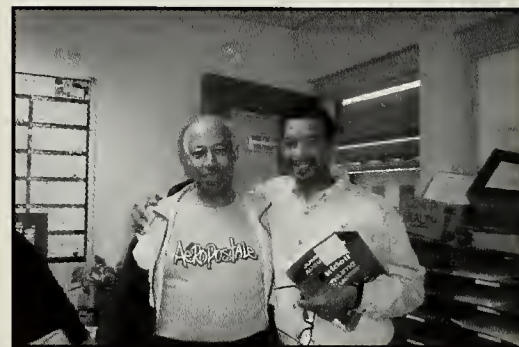

Mr. Gomes started working here in 1988, the first year that Carver High School was established. Since then he has not only been the athletic director he has been a teacher, and a coach for cross country, track and field, and girls basketball.

“Most dedicated and hard working individual I’ve ever met.”

Mr. Fraccalossi

“He does anything he can for the students.”

Mr. Steven King

His biggest challenge that he has had at Carver High School is to teach students to judge others by their character and not by the color of their skin.

“He’s always so busy he’s running around with his hair on fire.”

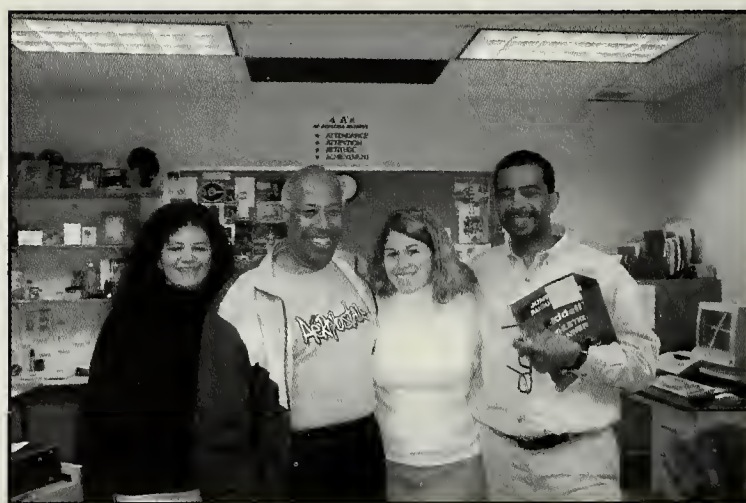

Wally Furtado

Mr. Gomes received the athletic director of 2000 and just recently received the Ron Burton Award for athletics in 2003.

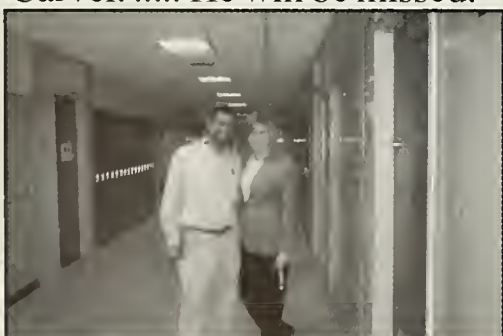

“I remember when Rocky was officially appointed Athletic Director for Carver High School, the first one the town of Carver ever had....it was very exciting because for the first time Carver students would have a real opportunity to participate in athletics.....and nobody fostered that desire like Rocky. I remember Ruth Lynch and Melody Greengross, co-teachers with Rocky in the Health Department, providing Rocky with a lobster luncheon to celebrate his appointment.....At the time I was the health aide in the nurse’s office and Rocky Palladino asked if I would help Rocky Gomes with clerical tasks..... that was the beginning of a five year time period when I was the unofficial secretary of the Athletic Department. and from that point I will say that Rocky was the ultimate mentor, coach and cheerleader for the student athletes of the town of Carver. He will be missed.”

“Taught me that academics come before anything.”

Chris Heslin

Marie Sullivan

Mr. Gomes considers developing a good, quality, middle school and high school athletic department, with emphasis on sportsmanship as his greatest accomplishment at Carver High School.

Samantha Drew

Samantha,

You have always been special to us, the first grandchild on both sides of the family, a child always aware, interested and vibrant. We have wonderful memories to look back on, such as your summary of the movie, ET, at the age of 3, the comment as a kindergartener about your mom and giraffes, imitations of relatives and movie characters, dancing to Billy Jean on stage, and family trips to Florida, NH, Washington DC and Yellowstone.

We are proud of your receiving teacher recognition for being conscientious, studious, creative, and having leadership qualities. You have many talents, and it is our hope that you find fulfillment in your career choice.

You have always been someone that knows oneself, and what you want in life. You were committed to graduating as a Junior and successfully fulfilled the requirements, allowing you to attend Rhode Island College as a Freshman in the fall of 2003.

You are an integral part of our family, and we already miss you and your humor, especially at the dinner table. We love you very much, Mom, Dad, and Josh

Success

To laugh often and much;

To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children;

To earn the appreciation of the honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends;

To appreciate beauty, to find the best in others;

To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;

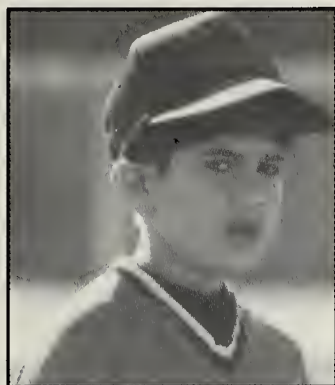

To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.

This is to have succeeded.

Bessie Stanley

Greg Speakman

We are so proud of you and how you have made such wise decisions growing up. We hope you will always make the right decisions in life and will always keep your head up. You are a great person to everyone and we hope you will never change. In life what sometimes appears to be the end is a new beginning. Do not follow where the path may lead instead where there is no path and leave a trail. We know we can always trust you to make the right decisions and for that we love you dearly. Remember we will always be there for you no matter what. Rachel you are a beautiful girl and we wish nothing but the best for you. Always remember you have family that loves you. Good luck for whatever you choose to do in life.

Amy Piepiora

Where did the time go? It seems just like yesterday that we put you on that big yellow school bus, off to kindergarten. You were so excited, enthusiastic, determined, ready to take on the world. Little did we know, day by day, week by week, year by year, that you really would! Here you are a graduating senior having accomplished more than we could ever have dreamed of. You have become a remarkable young lady, still excited, enthusiastic, idealistic, ready to take on the new world. Your incredible courage, and determination will allow you to do whatever you want and be the best at it. You're on the move, going places, doing great things, enjoying life. But as big as you become, remember you will always be our little girl whom we have and will always love, and admire. Never change.

Good luck in college.
Have a good time.
Visit often. I'll miss you.
